SUNDAY, JULY 25, 1875.

Ir the Southern States have failed to become prosperous, the fault is not in the measures of reconstruction, but in the people themselves. If Southern Democrats and worked one-half as carnestly to help reconstruction as they have to oppose it. peace, security happiness, and prosperity, would be fully possessed by the South to-day. It is not too late to learn wisdom from the past. Let the intelligence and wealth of the Southern States unite in efforts to build up instead of tearing down, and the Contounial year will see the South on the high road to wealth.

THERE is a quasi rebellion among the Government clerks at Washington. The Republican General Congressional Committee has levied an assessment on the clerks for election expenses aggregating $100,000. The clerks very properly object to pay for two reasons: The first and most correct one is that the assessment is outrageously wrong; the second and obvious one is that the money, if collected, will not be properly expanded.

Ir is now probable that the contest between Lander and Elko counties, concerning the strip of territory coded to Landor from Elko, by the Legislature, last Winter, will be taken directly to the Supreme Court for adjustification. They have conclinded that to try the case before Judge Bonniflold, of Humboldt connty, will be throwing time and money away, as it will have to be taken to the Suprome Court, at last.

Hunting Specimens for the Center-mini-The Trip Through Eastern Nevada-Lectucing by the Way-side-The Future of Certain Mining Districts-Rtc.

EDITOR EXTERPRISE: During the past two months Whitehill and I have traveled more than eleven hundred miles with one team, which is pretty good work for the team, and we have also examined nearly every important mine and mining district in Southern and Eastern Novada; beside gathering several tons of the richest, rurest and most beautiful mineral specimens to be found in the State. I may as well dispose of this part of the business at once by say-that we shall doubtless present to the admiring scrutiny of Contennial visitants the most

To be found in any State in the great Republic. During our woarisome pilgrimage over deserts, mountains and alkali wastes, we have visited many mining localities which are yet destined to cut a conspicuous flaure in the financial wealth of the State. Through mismanagement and downright ignorance on the part of mine owners and stock-jobbors, many of these mining districts are now desolate and unproductive; but in many instances, a careful examination of the geological and mineralogical condititions of the mines convinced me that the non-productiveness of the mines is wholly attributed to the lack of development and to the stupidity and laziness of mine owners. It may be out of place mention names in this connection, but, like a devout Quaker, the spirit moves me to say that the once thriving camps, viz: Aurora, Pina Grove, Hiko, Silver Peak, Columbus, San Autone, and many others, might to-day be rivals of the Comstock were it not for the

LAKE TAHOE NAMEOW GAUGE RAILHOND.

A few days ago our reporter in company with Me. J. J. Holmes, superintendent of construction, passed over the line of the new unrrow-gauge railroad extending from the mills of D. O. Mills, Yorington, Bliss & Co., on the castern shore of Lake Talion, to the summit of the Siferas, a distance of nine miles. Our rido over the first three miles of the roady completed, was a very exhibiting one. The loco-motive employed in hauling the coustruction train was the "Talme," a chapper looking engine, built specially, for the road, at the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Phila. Its companjon is called the "Glenbrock." The business of the read will probably necessitate the employment of a 112%. third locomotive. At the west end of the read the company have erected by 86 feet, and furnished it with a full complement of machinery. The enterprise which was inaugurated on the 19th of April last involved numberless difficulties. The grade is 129 feet to the mile and in order to climb the steep and ragged mountain side after winding through a recky gorge, the road bad assums the slope of the letter Z considerably flattened out and standing at an angle of about 45 dogrees. A portion of the route was so steep that even a footman could not traverse it, and the engineers had to let themselves down from the over hanging rocks to the road-bed below by means of ropes, in order to complete the survey. The road for the most part traverses a country lined with pine stumps, boulders and rock of gigantic formation. Many of the rocks when lifted out of their place with blasting powder relied the down steep declivity with sufficient momentum to sump of the largest pines like a pipe stem. One gigantic bowlder fiftuen feet in diameter was lifted out only after twenty kegs of powder had been placed under it. There are 11 trestle bridges on the road and one lunnel 470 feet in length. The trestles are the most substantial of any road in the United States. The shortest curve is 20 degrees. It is calculated that a single locomotive will be able to haul 35,000 feet of lumber at a load. About 250 laborers are employed on the road, which will be in running order in a few days. Superintendent Holmes, and also Mr. Anderson, are entitled to much credit for the skill and energy they have displayed in overcoming almost insurmountable obstacles. At the southwest corner of the Lake Mr. Gardner is making rapid headway with his railroad, which is to be used solely in lauling saw-logs to the lake. One mile of track is already laid, and in a few weeks the "Ormsby" will arouse the feathered
